Dear Mr. Scott Morris,

This is Adam Estes, one of the boy scouts (from troop 53 Mattapoisett) that was sponsored to go to conservation camp. I would like to thank you and the Mass. Beach Buggy Association for sponsoring me. I had a lot of fun and I learned a lot. I learned about hunting, fishing, and wildlife in general. The camp was a great experience. They taught me so much but in an entertaining and informative way. Once again, thank you.

Dear Angela,

I am writing to thank you for your gift of $50.00, made in April of 2011. We appreciate you being a part of this community of thousands of people across the country and around the globe who volunteer, donate or shave their heads to fund some of the most promising childhood cancer research. To kids like 'Peanut,' this means the world.

Christopher, nicknamed 'Peanut,' is five years old and will start kindergarten this September. He loves police cars and was adopted by the local police department, where he's been dubbed 'Officer Peanut.' He was diagnosed with a brain tumor three years ago.

The hospital where Peanut was treated has received two St. Baldrick's grants, giving them the opportunity to treat more children on clinical trials, their best hope for a cure. In 2010 alone, St. Baldrick's gave $14.2 million in grants to over 200 top institutions that are making strides in providing better treatment. To the families who walk through the doors of these institutions hoping for the best, this means the world.

Officer Peanut's recent MRI looked good, and the doctor said something wonderful to his mother, Leah: 'You can start planning for his future.'

Every parent of a child with cancer hopes to hear words like that, and you are helping to make that hope a reality. To children affected by cancer and their families, your contribution means the world, and we thank you.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Chapman Weaver
Chief Philanthropy Officer
